GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

A Call for the President.

[illegible] Oct. 11.—The Herald to-day says [illegible] an urgent necessity that the president [illegible] United States return from his long pleasure trip [illegible] Pacific coast to his post of duty at the [illegible] government. Matters that require his vigil [illegible] general situation are hastening to a possible [illegible] at least two states political passions are [illegible] to such a pitch that threats of violence [illegible] publicly uttered. There is ground for [illegible] if not for alarm.

[illegible] on the Elevated Railroad.

[illegible] a train going down town on the Second avenue elevated railroad during a fog ran into [illegible] a train ahead and Edward Cooper on [illegible] rear train was killed. The engine and [illegible] were badly broken.

Gen. Grant at New York.

[illegible] Oct. 11.—The following interview with [illegible] took place to-day:

[illegible] you think of the political outlook? [illegible] reporter.

[illegible] it is good. Everything looks hopeful [illegible] appears to me little doubt of republican [illegible]

[illegible] will the soldiers vote?

[illegible] replied the general slowly and with [illegible] meditation, I should judge you know as [illegible] of that than I do. I have heard of [illegible] who are going to vote the democratic ticket [illegible] men who have always voted the democratic [illegible] I have heard of no others.

[illegible] General, that you do not care to talk [illegible] recent interviews?

[illegible] no particular wish to say anything [illegible] because I do not see what good anything [illegible] may do. I had no idea that the interview [illegible] Dr. Fowler would be published. I certainly did not. It was an extraordinary conversation [illegible] did not think for a moment that Fowler [illegible] publish it. A few days after it took place [illegible] asking for my permission to publish the [illegible] I replied that a gentleman was going [illegible] use of it on the stump after he had [illegible] records at Washington and ascertained [illegible] and yet Dr Fowler after receiving my [illegible]

[illegible] talk was cut short by a visitor [illegible] breakfast Gen Grant received a few of his [illegible] friends only, and at 11.30 Gen. Badeau had [illegible] interview with him which lasted nearly [illegible] A few other visitors were then shown [illegible] which Gen Grant and his son Fred [illegible] Jersey City heights to visit the general.

[illegible] Episcopal Convention.

[illegible] Oct. 11.—In the Protestant Episcopal [illegible] a resolution by Rev. Dr. Adams of Wisconsin [illegible] adopted, that in cases where there is any [illegible] diocese and there is no church college in [illegible] the general convention expect the church [illegible] the diocese to the plan close by the university [illegible] in which there shall be chambers and dining [illegible] and chapel with services of the church and [illegible] president and one or more tutors for [illegible] who may choose to reside there, may be at [illegible] members of the university.

Supervisor Davenport Sustained.

[illegible] Judge Choate, concurring, has [illegible] refusing to remove Davenport, chief [illegible] of elections, and dismissing the order to [illegible] was granted on Saturday. Judge [illegible] however, thought certain parts of the [illegible] governing deputy marshals, might be [illegible]

Joe Emmett not Dead.

[illegible] Oct. 11.—The reports circulating in [illegible] eastern cities that Joe Emmett, the [illegible] are entirely without foundation. He [illegible] better, and is improving as rapidly as [illegible] expected under the circumstances.

Fire at Bradford, Pa.

[illegible] Oct. 11.—Last night the McClure House [illegible] five miles east of here, caught fire from [illegible] and was burned together with the [illegible] depot and two small buildings. Minnie [illegible] a servant, fainted in the third story and was [illegible] by Mary Hessler, another servant [illegible] [illegible] injuries. The latter escaped [illegible] Total loss, $20,000; partly insured.

The Vienna Disaster.

[illegible] the Vienna river disaster was recovered [illegible] Two more bodies are in the river.

A Case of Yellow Fever.

[illegible] Oct. 11.—John Johnson employed on a [illegible] from the West Indies has been sent from [illegible] to quarantine, suffering [illegible] a pronounced case of yellow fever. The vessel [illegible] is in North Carolina.

[illegible] Movement in Wheat.

[illegible] Oct. 11.—Fifteen thousand six hundred [illegible] forty four carloads arrived last week [illegible] Everything was bullish [illegible] Saturday. Wheat advanced [illegible] cents, and from 8 to 10 cents per 100 [illegible] everything else in proportion. The [illegible] is purely speculative and is based on [illegible] generally persisted in with [illegible] stocks of new crop wheat, particularly [illegible] hope of obtaining higher prices.

Heavy Embezzlement.

[illegible] N. J., Oct. 11.—Joseph F. Fisher [illegible] Union Loan Association has embezzled [illegible] stockholders' funds. He claims [illegible] back the amount [illegible]

[illegible] Pittsburg Disaster.

[illegible] Calamity than First Reported.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

[illegible] Oct. 11.—The frightful collision that [illegible] on the Pennsylvania railroad [illegible] street crossing, was more [illegible] Nine people were [illegible] have died since, making [illegible] while as many more are dangerously [illegible] more are [illegible] injured. THE POLITICAL FIELD

The Music Proceeds in Indiana

EVANSVILLE Oct 11—[illegible]

[illegible] —Quite a crowd again gathered about the jail and it is feared by some that there will be trouble. The last crowd was dispersed by words from the mayor. There is considerable feeling among the negroes as well as among the whites.

Gen. Grant—The "Reform" Effort in Indiana.

NEW YORK, Oct 11.—Gen Grant informed an Evening Post reporter that he would remain east until May, going to Galena only to vote.

Ex Gov. Smith, at the rooms of the national republican committee said this morning when questioned about the outlook in Ohio and Indiana. We shall carry Ohio by a good majority, but will probably lose Indiana. He held in his hand the following dispatch from a member of the committee at Indianapolis: "The work of distributing eastern repeaters to small democratic towns all over the state is energetically pursued by the democratic committee. Yesterday we had positive information that a corruption fund to buy votes of $350,000 was distributed over the state. The democrats [illegible] as has arranged at many hundred polling places to have fifteen men at each with revolvers strapped outside their coats to bulldoze and drive away republicans. About 2000 red shirts were issued last night."

The Last Bulletin from Indiana.

CHICAGO Oct. 11.—The Inter Ocean's Indianapolis special says: The general feeling, to-night is one of relief from the fears that have prevailed of trouble on Tuesday. There has been so much talk of trouble and citizens have been so persistently warned, that prevention has come with the alarm. There is no danger of trouble at any of the other large towns than here. The Evening News has a dispatch from Evansville stating that at a democratic meeting at [illegible] on Saturday L. N. Schonfield shot down, in cold blood, Uriah Webb, a colored man who was fleeing for his life from a mob of 300 or 300 democrats. Another negro was badly cut. While Webb lay weltering in his blood in the street the Hancock and English Club, in uniform swung their hats and gave three cheers for Hancock. Schonfield had not been arrested at last accounts.

Marshal Dudley's scheme for spotting voters has resulted in placing him in possession of over 2800 names of persons who have located in Indiana within six months, and who have not acquired the right to vote. The feeling among the republican managers to-night is certainly one of great hope and confidence. On their figures gathered for the [illegible] canvass of the counties they have the state by 5000 majority certain. The uncertain quantity, as has been often remarked is fraud. If with the immense amount of money brought into the state to which Barnum added a sum on his return $70,000, the democrats shall be able to buy only five votes at each precinct in the state, it would make a difference of 10,000 votes in the result.

The Final Preparations in Ohio.

COLUMBUS Oct. 11.—To-day has been occupied by both state committees in sending out final instructions to their followers. Both parties have splendid organizations in the state, and an immense vote will be polled to-morrow. Both parties claim to have taken every precaution for polling its entire vote and to preserve the purity of the ballot box.

An Address by Business Men.

CHICAGO Oct. [illegible]—An address directed to the business men, manufacturers and mechanics of Ohio and Indiana, has been circulated and largely signed to-day by business firms of this city. It requests them to vote the republican ticket in order that the present prosperous condition of business and manufactures may not be disturbed, and that the democratic party which is declared to be the party of repudiation and [illegible] may not be given the reins of power. The address is signed by J. V. Farwell & Co., W. [illegible] Hendershot & Co., Franklin Mac[illegible] & Co., Rand Bros., W. T. Baker & Co., and 100 more equally prominent business men.

Blaine Worn Out.

CHICAGO Oct. 11.—Senator Blaine has been compelled to cancel his appointments for the stump. He has spoken so long, to large meetings in the open air and often in the night time in Indiana and Ohio that his throat has become affected. Physicians whom he consulted here to-day, order him peremptorily to stop and rest.

FEELING OVER THE SHELBYVILLE RIOT.

Ex-Gov. Hendricks Counsels Peace at the Polls.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The Tribune's Shelbyville special says: The excitement occasioned by the killing of Albert McCorkle county sheriff, last Saturday has somewhat subsided. Still considerable bitter feeling exists, but not sufficient to cause further bloodshed. Young Kennedy who did the shooting is still at large. The calamity is deplored by all. McCorkle was thirty three years of age, and at the time of his death was serving a second term as sheriff. He was senior partner of the Shelby Democrat, the county organ, but was not connected with the paper except as financial manager. Apart from politics McCorkle was a useful citizen, and right sober, man, a person who never intentionally harmed any one. The boy who did the shooting is only 17 years old, and comes from a respectable family. The democracy held their finale here to-day, and it was feared that the scenes of Saturday would be repeated. All passed off quietly, owing in great measure to the fact that the republicans kept perfectly quiet having nothing to say [illegible] result that had any republican dared to express his political opinion a certain element of the democrats were prepared to begin hostilities. The crowd was estimated at 6000 men, women and children. Hon. Thos. A. Hendricks delivered an address that part of it referring to the recent riot and that indirectly brought on to-morrow, did him much credit as well as doing a great deal towards allaying the present excitement. He advocated peace at the polls in strong terms, urging every man in the county to do all in his power towards preventing another outbreak [illegible] to Kennedy, he said. [illegible] whatever you do, do not resort to mob violence. Some [illegible] of your best men and give him a fair and impartial trial and abide the decision. To-night republicans feel much encouraged over the turn of affairs and do not anticipate much trouble. There is, however a feeling brewing that is very malignant and should anything unfavorable occur no power can prevent another and very serious riot. If it is commenced there is no telling where it will end. The building [illegible] indulged in threats and their fury [illegible] Republicans intend going to the polls [illegible] all day, and are intent that every man that has a legal right to vote, shall cast his vote [illegible]

HANCOCK AND GETTYSBURG.

A Corrected Version of his Part in the Great Battle.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO Oct 11.—The Inter Ocean publishes the following: A telegram was recently published in a Chicago newspaper in which Gen. Slocum's name was dicted as authority [illegible] Gen. Grant and declared that Gen. Hancock selected the Gettysburg battlefield. Gen. Slocum is reported as saying that he was on the scene and took an active part in that memorable battle, and consequently knew as that to Hancock belongs the credit of selecting the battle field. It is a fortunate thing for truth that other officers than Gen. Slocum were present at that battle who took an active part in the struggle. Among these was Gen. C. H. Howard. The Chicago Advance, who was adjutant general of the left wing of the Army of the Potomac after Gen. Reynolds was killed, Gen. O. O. Howard, Gen. C. H. Howard's brother, came into command of the troops, consisting of the 1st, 11th and 3d corps. After Gen. Reynolds' death Gen. O. O. Howard's adjutant went with the 11th corps then under command of Schurz and Gen. C. H. Howard was aide and adjutant general of the left wing, when he went on, kept the record of orders and movements of that day, but carried orders to different commanders and is qualified to give the true facts in regard to the part that Hancock and Slocum bore in that fight. Let us know, general, asked an Inter Ocean reporter who visited him, all you know about the disposition of troops on the battle field of Gettysburg.

I came upon the field with Major General Howard on the morning of July 1. But a fence rail had been removed on Cemetery Ridge until Gen. Howard went out on the ridge to reconnoitre, and then located two batteries of artillery and one division of infantry under Maj. Gen. Steinwehr on the north end of the ridge. This was done on the morning of July 1st. He rode out upon the ground where afterwards the battle raged so hotly and said to his chief of staff: "Here is a military position."

When did Slocum arrive?

Slocum did not arrive until nearly sunset of that day. Hancock did not arrive until 4.30 P. M. These facts are sufficient to prove that neither Hancock nor Slocum deserve any credit for the success of the battle of Gettysburg.

CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA.

A Dictatorship in Costa Rica—Chili and Peru. The War Continues.

NEW YORK, Oct 11.—The Star and Herald of Panama says: A decree issued by president Guardia of Costa Rica re-establishes the law of January 1870, by which all personal guarantees are abolished and the community is under the dictatorship of a dictator. Another decree suspends the session of the national constitutional assembly convened about a month ago. The reason given in the official gazette for this arbitrary measure is that a conspiracy against the government has been discovered and the only salvation for those in power was dictatorship.

The most important news from the southwest coast is an account of the destruction of the Chilean sloop Covadonga. Chileans picked up an empty boat at sea between Cancny and Arson which on being hoisted on deck exploded and sank the Covadonga in a few minutes. The Covadonga was captured by Chileans from Spain during the Spanish aggression on the coast in 1864. The Chileans [illegible] devastating the northern provinces of Peru.

The magnificent sugar plantations of Palo Seco and San Bernard were burned by the invaders, the owners having refused money demanded. Live stock, sugar, rice, etc. about the village of Pueblo Nuevo were seized and the village burned. Rolling stock of the railroad was also burned. A portion of the troops went to Supe, continued the work of plunder and destroyed part of the neighboring town Hacienda by fire. At Payta and Sullana all of the rolling stock was burned.

The Chileans captured the American steamer Islay and expressed an intention to capture the Columbian schooner Tamaco which they said had carried war material to Supe. They finally steamed away in the direction of the departments of La Libertad and Lambayeque.

It is said that only four of the crew of the Covadonga were saved.

A rumor is beginning to gain currency that U. S. Minister Christiancy obtained a promise from the Chileans that no active operations would be carried on pending the receipt of an answer from Peru to conditions of peace. The Opinion Nationale of Lima says it learns that Mr. Christiancy on passing Arica asked for explanations from the Chilean authorities as to the burning of the U. S. consulate and as he obtained only evasive answers it is considered certain that he has given an order for steamers to call at that port and exact necessary satisfaction. If this should be refused the paper states that the Adams is to bombard the town. There is a rumor that the U. S. minister to Chile has presented a note in which England coincides. In this note the two powers it is said express their regret at occurrences in the south and trust the excesses which have hitherto followed their victories will not be repeated and that foreign properties and lives will merit more respect than hitherto.

Chile claims 20,000 men between Tacua and Arica, including 2,000 cavalry. They declare their intention of moving on Lima between the 10th and 15th of October.

Evening Session.

SECOND READING OF BILLS.

S. B. 30—To prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of [illegible] liquors in this state, on motion of Humphrey referred to the judiciary committee.

S. B. 40—To provide for the duties of county assessors and to repeal title 2, chapter 7 and to amend sections [illegible] title 4 of said chapter of the miscellaneous laws, on motion of Humphrey referred to the committee on assessment.

S. B. 62—To grant the Oregonian railroad company limited the right of way and station grounds over state lands and terminal facilities upon the state grounds at the city of Portland.

To this bill Lee offered the following amendment: Amend section 1 by adding the following: "Provided always that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to take away any peculiarly [illegible] property rights which the city of Portland may lawfully have in said premises as a municipal corporation, which the state may not lawfully appropriate in this act, and that said company shall never charge dockage to any boat, ship or vessel receiving or discharging cargo at the wharf which may be erected on said premises."

To amend section 3 adding the following: "Provided always that said railroad company shall permit any other railroad to use said track and turnouts on Front street that said line of track shall be constructed so as not to obstruct travel or the general use of Front street, that the city of Portland shall have the power to provide the manner of construction of said track and regulate use of the same. Provided, nothing shall be construed to give the city of Portland any power to prohibit or restrict the use of said track by said company from 9 o'clock in the evening till 6 o'clock the following morning of each day or 3 hours or an [illegible] city to change the gauge of the road of said company or require said track to be constructed in such manner as to render it impossible for said company to use the same for making any requirements for laying or constructing said track which may not be necessary to protect the same from obstruction. Said Front street [illegible] regular use of the streets [illegible] mont of the street [illegible] track and [illegible]

To amend section 5 of the printed bill by striking out the word twenty, from said section and insert in lieu the word ten.

On motion of Lee referred to the committee on corporations.

S. B. 7—To amend section 646 title 1 chapter 8 criminal code, and to repeal the act to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors to minors and others approved October 19, 1877, ordered considered engrossed and passed to a third reading.

S. B. 12—To provide compensation of sheriffs and clerks and for [illegible] compensation.

McConnell was opposed to it because it discriminated in favor of large counties.

Hilyeo spoke in favor of the bill warmly quoting figures and showing the enormous salaries of the sheriff and clerk of Linn county, comparing their salaries to the principal officers of the state and calling on senators to vote on this question and provide a remedy for their constituents and the tax payers. Every thing in the bill is for the benefit of the people. No one can oppose it without jeopardizing the interests of his constituents.

Cochran—The people interested in the question desire relief in this direction. They are willing to concede the good policy of a measure to reduce expenses and salaries.

Apperson made a few remarks and on a vote the bill passed.

Sinton presented a remonstrance of citizens of Portland against the passage of S. B. [illegible] signed by Wm. S. Ladd, H. W. Corbett and over 300 property holders on Front street.

On motion of Simon it was referred to the committee on corporations. Also a resolution from [illegible] attorney of the O. R. & N. Co. limited, to take property from the city of Portland.

On motion of Simon Hon. T. A. Davis was invited to a seat within the bar of the senate.

Lee presented petition from consolidating without regard to party [illegible] referred to the committee on corporations.

Woodward offered a similar petition.

Knight moved the suspension of the rules to take up H. B. 4, to provide for the construction of a brick insane asylum building to purchase grounds suitable for the same and to appropriate money therefor. The following was the vote:

Yeas—Apperson, Bilyeu, Burch, Colvig, Cochran, Davidson, Fulton, Gates, Grim, Hendricks, Humphrey, Knight, Lee, McConnell, Pennington, Sifers, Stark, Weather and Waldo—18.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

FROM OLYMPIA TO TACOMA AND SEATTLE

The Metropolis of Puget Sound Welcomes the President with a Fleet in Elliott Bay—Unabated Enthusiasm.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW TACOMA, Oct. 11.—The presidential party was joined at Olympia by Gov. Ferry and wife, Major Morris and Col. Owings and left by the steamer, the Geo. E. Starr at 8 o'clock. A stoppage of 10 minutes was made at Steilacoom where the President, Secretary Ramsey and Gen. Sherman stepped ashore and shook hands with the crowd assembled. No speeches were made. All the people of the town—men, women and children—were at the dock and as the boat swung out cheered with the greatest enthusiasm. Shortly after 11 o'clock the boat reached Tacoma calling in for Gen. Sprague who left the party at Tenino on Saturday. Almost the entire population was on the dock and the party was received with the greatest cordiality. The steam whistles of the mills, steamboats and ships were sounded and a howitzer on a ship in port belched forth a glad welcome as the steamer passed Old Tacoma. The boat will start immediately down the Sound and will reach Seattle at about 5:30 this afternoon.

SEATTLE, Oct. 11.—After taking on board Gen. J. W. Sprague [illegible] the Starr steamed down [illegible] Alki five miles above Seattle [illegible] steamers and tugs and the revenue [illegible] decorated with flags and [illegible] the steamboat [illegible] followed. The [illegible] was as bright as sunlight could make it [illegible] with the ornaments [illegible] mountains in the distance [illegible] a picture rare in beauty and grandeur. At the party declared this parade of steamers [illegible] attraction [illegible] [illegible] the city a battery on shore boomed out a presidential salute, and was seconded by the steam whistles. The decks crowded by the [illegible] the city and along the south wharf gave cheer after cheer. The president and others immediately on landing entered carriages and attended by an escort of the G. A. R. and mounted men were headed by a band of music, passed between heavy files of citizens to the Occidental hotel. The crowd filled the open square in front of the hotel. Reassembling to see all the party appeared on the balcony. Chief Justice Greene in behalf of the citizens addressed the president assuring him of a hearty welcome. He spoke of the desire of the territory to become a state and of its many resources and advantages. His address was fitting and scholarly.

The president on being introduced to the crowd which numbered fully 4000, was greeted by three cheers and a hearty tiger. He said referring to Judge Greene's speech that the opinion of knowledge was always agreeable. Ohio once thought the center of the country was somewhere about Cincinnati. The people of Tennessee thought the center somewhere in their state. He found in California that the people thought it was in their state and Oregonians were certain that it was at Portland. [Laughter.] Now he was told that the center of the country was here at Seattle. It matters not at what local point it is, [illegible] for all useful and patriotic purposes the center of the nation is where this flag floats. [Applause.] The party he said was going to the coal mines this afternoon and on their return in the evening would meet and speak with the people again. He would then shake hands with all. Looking at the immense throng, and smiling, "No, not all."

He then introduced Secretary Ramsey, the pioneer of Minnesota. Three cheers were given for the secretary. As he stepped to the front he said the president had come a long ways and not wearied in his journey of more than 4000 miles to see the people, and felt repaid by the cordial greeting. He was astonished at the numbers but not at the patriotic and American character of the audience. At every point on the coast they had met just such an intelligent class of people. A great country must grow from such a foundation. He was glad indeed to see Puget sound of which so much had been said, and of which such great things are true. The people are growing under the influence of such a great body of water and great mountains cannot be near a mean people. It is a proud thing to be an American citizen. Referring to the president's remark about the center of the nation he said that in reality [illegible] other side that their town was the center because [illegible] he would apply here. [Laughter.] [illegible] nothing said in all our journey which strikes us so favorably as your city when we approached it. No city has given us such a reception as you have on your beautiful bay. He saw evidences that the people had laid the foundations of a great city. Only wait and great prosperity will come. No such intelligent population as you saw before him, ever made a great mistake. They were at the right place and would not have gone to any other site. When he went to St. Paul as a governor more than thirty years ago it had twelve houses and was generally known as Pig's Eye. But the people worked and prayed and believed there would be a great city. His locality he said had the ocean, a splendid harbor and has the best timber in the world and magnificent mountains. He concluded: Providence has done everything for you. Now do your duty and your highest dreams will be fulfilled.

Gen. Sherman was loudly called for and was received with even more enthusiasm than the preceding speakers. Referring to Secretary Ramsey's remarks concerning pioneers, he said that soldiers made the best pioneers. After the revolution the soldiers pushed their way to Ohio, then a wild country and this was why Ohio produced so many presidents. The soldiers of the war of 1812 were the first settlers in Illinois. He had great faith in Puget Sound. He was at Seattle three years ago and saw any of the wilds awake people were out. But he got up [illegible] in rain, and walked all over the city. He remembered San Francisco when as small as Seattle and thought that many men of twenty would live to see Seattle as big as San Francisco is at present. Seattle, he said, had the best harbor in the world, unrivaled resources of coal and timber, and now needed only the connecting link of a railroad. The people have laid the foundation of an empire. You are getting along fast. He said and are well enough off as a territory. But after a while you will be a state of course. He continued: When we return to the United States [great laughter] remember [illegible] that I am an old pioneer and that is how we dug out. [illegible] We called ourselves the United States of this country. I did not intend to make a slip but will stand by it when we go back we will carry the best ideas of the country and of the people. He said that the president was a staunch friend of pioneers and closed with words of encouragement and expressing his [illegible] as to the people of greater [illegible] in the future when the Northern Pacific Railroad shall be built.

Mrs. Hayes was called for by the crowd and responded as usual by bowing.

The president, Secretary Ramsey, Gen. Sherman and some other gentlemen of the party boarded the train in waiting and visited the coal mines 12 miles from the city and expressed greatest surprise in what they saw. During their absence the ladies of the party walked and rode back of the city and took a light lunch at the residence of Mr. Bailey Gatzert. At eight o'clock this evening a reception was held which lasted nearly two hours. Business was almost entirely suspended during the afternoon, and to-night nearly every building in town, business or private, is brilliantly illuminated. The city viewed from the bay presents a most brilliant appearance while crowds throng the pavements. Many houses and all ships in the harbor are decorated. When the [illegible] is considered, [illegible] the demonstration seems wonderful. It certainly far exceeds in proportion to any city on the coast, San Francisco and Portland not excepted. The party leave at 6 o'clock in the morning down the Sound. They will stop at Port Gamble and inspect the sawmill and have a reception at Port Townsend in the afternoon.

NOTES FROM SALEM

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

SALEM, Oct 11 1880.

LEASE SURRENDERED.

We regret to learn that S. P. Mathews Esq., proprietor of the Chemeketa hotel in this city has become financially embarrassed necessitating the surrender of the lease of that building and otherwise crippling him. He has been losing heavily for months past, and Hotaling & Co. of Portland finally closed in on him. We learn that Wesley Graves of the Commercial hotel has made an offer for the lease of the Chemeketa for a term of years.

MATRIMONIAL.

Salem is to have three weddings during the coming week. On Wednesday next John E. Young, who, for several years past has been with J. & W. Crawford of this city will lead to the hymenial altar Miss Lottie Byrne the accomplished daughter of Lewis Byrne, Esq. The wedding will be a quiet one, according to the rites of the Catholic church. The young couple are deservedly popular and a host of friends join with us in wishing them in advance health, wealth and happiness.

Next comes the marriage on the day following of Dr. J. W. McAffee one of our oldest practitioners who enters into marital relations with a Southern belle whose surname is Taylor and a host of friends wish them Godspeed.

Last, but not least by any means is the wedding on Sunday next wherein C. A. Schlbrede G. W. C. T. of the I. O. G. T., and Miss Ianthe Downing of Sublimity are most deeply interested. Again we are called upon to bespeak for them a happy union.

POLITICAL.

Everything promises well for the torchlight procession this (Tuesday) evening and Hon. Geo. H. Williams will receive a welcome of which he may be justly proud. The procession will form on Court street opposite the courthouse, and from thence march through the principal streets. Look out for an enthusiastic meeting.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Rev. Geo. F. Plummer, of Trinity church, in your city officiated yesterday at St. Paul's Episcopal church in this city. His discourses were of a masterly character.

Peter Emerson of this city feels justly proud of his little trotting mare Flora E. who won the first premium at the Linn county fair. Her gait was a 40 which, by the way, is not her level best by any means.

The ladies of the Congregational church in this city will entertain their friends on Friday evening next and the event promises to be a pleasant one both in a literary and culinary point of view as these ladies were never known to do things by halves. The ladies parlors attached to the church will be used for the first time and arrangements are being made for the entertainment of a large crowd.

LINN COUNTY FAIR.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

FAIR GROUNDS Oct. 9 1880.

The Linn county fair closed to day. The fair must be recorded as a success financially. The display was not large but all the articles on exhibition were of the very best quality.

The parade of stock at 9 A. M. to-day showed that the stock breeders of Oregon are sparing no pains to improve the quality of all kinds of stock.

At 11 A. M. the trial for the prize of the lady equestrians came off, four ladies competing. The lucky winners of the first and second premiums were two sisters from Fox valley, Linn county, the Misses Berry.

At 1 P. M. the running race free for all two in three came off for a purse of $250. The following horses entered: G. J. Basket entered Deschutes; J. F. Miller entered Russell Coleman; G. J. Basket entered Cadette. Deschutes won the race and money distancing the other two the first heat giving him first and second premium.

The following horses entered for the trotting race three in five free for all, for a purse of $200 which came off at 3 P. M.: Wm. Gird entered Antelope; H. Smiley Florence F.; J. Misner Tempest. Florence took the first, second and third heats winning race and money. This was a fine race. Florence and Tempest doing good work.

There was a new variety on exhibition called Russian spring wheat, which for yield and quality is remarkable; also a fine variety of white velvet wheat. An Iowa Hale had some fine black Spanish watermelons, some of them weighing twenty-six pounds, also some mammoth squashes.

Altogether the fair has been better than was expected and the association feel encouraged and will make preparations for a better one next year.

IT SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE.

That a remedy made of such common, simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c. should make so many and such marvelous and wonderful cures as Hop Bitters do but when old and young, rich and poor, Pastor and Doctor, Lawyer and Editor, all testify to having been cured by them, you must believe and try them yourself, and doubt no longer. See other column.

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCT. 12, 1880.

GETTYSBURG.

Gen. Hancock's part in the battle of Gettysburg has been overstated by indiscreet friends. Not only did Gen. Hancock not select the field of battle, but he did not arrive on the field till after the battle had been in progress an entire day, and he came up without his corps. Gen. John F. Reynolds, who was in command of the field, was killed early in the action, and the command fell to Gen. O. O. Howard, under whom the battle continued without intermission and under whose orders the dispositions for the final struggle were made. Gen. Hancock, as the dispatch which we print elsewhere states, did not reach the field till half-past four P. M., and his corps did not get up till the following night. Gen. Hancock, saluting Gen. Howard, stated that he came under orders from Gen. Meade to represent him on the field. The battle, however, continued under the order formed by Gen. Howard; and there can be no doubt that its result would have been precisely the same had Gen. Hancock not come up at all. Some two or three years since, we don't recollect the time precisely, Gen. Howard published in the Atlantic Monthly an article which gave a history of the movements at Gettysburg and of his own part in the battle up to the arrival of Gen. Hancock, and afterwards, which, as we remember, agrees very closely with the statement we publish in our telegraphic columns to-day. None of the special advocates of Gen. Hancock's claim—or of the claim put forward in his behalf—to be the sole hero of Gettysburg, has ever taken issue with Gen. Howard's article, so far as we know. Gen. Hancock's part in the battle was honorable to him, but it was a far less part than Gen. Howard's in whose behalf no claim of special heroism or transcendent glory has ever been made. The difference is simply between a soldier who performs a great duty quietly and earnestly, yet without self-consciousness or thought of his own advancement, and one who in performing a duty postures and attitudinizes before his countrymen, delighting in bizarre effect like that produced by a whimsical combination of magnifying mirrors set at angles and opposites.

GEN. HANCOCK AND HIS PARTY.

General Hancock, in his letter on payment of rebel claims, asserted that nobody would be "so unnatural" as to bring forward in congress any proposition of the kind; and he further declared that to do so would be to "insult the honor and intelligence of our people."

Since this declaration was made a list has been prepared of senators and representatives who have introduced bills to pay claims of this character. Of senators the list includes Jonas of Louisiana, Beck of Kentucky, Vest of Missouri, Morgan of Alabama, Butler of South Carolina, Garland of Arkansas, Gordon and Hill of Georgia, Davis and Hareford of West Virginia, Whyte and Groome of Maryland, Bailey of Tennessee, Call of Florida, Johnson of Virginia, and Vance and Merrimon of North Carolina.

This is quite a formidable list of men in high place who have "insulted the honor and intelligence of our people." But the list of representatives who have done the same thing is much larger. It numbers fifty-four members, all of whom, it is quite unnecessary, to say, are democrats, and earnest supporters of Hancock.

Against so powerful an influence in his own party the declaration of Gen. Hancock can hardly be expected to prevail. The southern democracy have made no promises, and Gen. Hancock cannot bind them. So far from having made promises not to press these claims, they have no end of bills now pending to pay claims of such character. Southern congressmen are committed to a policy which Gen. Hancock says would be an "insult to the intelligence and honor of our people."

And they purpose to go further. It is their design to make all this easy, and to support it through legal forms. Before the present congress a bill is pending, introduced by Manning of Mississippi—house bill 3343—to reorganize the supreme court by appointing twelve new judges. That bill contains the methods through which the payment of all southern claims, even to payment of claims for slaves, may be accomplished; and the bill is now in the hands of the house judiciary committee. True, Gen. Hancock promises that he will defend the country against the democratic party; but he might not be able to do so. Since actual security against these contingencies may be had through the republican party, it would seem unnecessary to take risks of any kind.

THE LEVEE TITLE.

To-day we publish the record on which the title of the city to the public levee rests. It is a record which shows the city's title to be invincible. We recapitulate leading points:

1. The tract in question was conveyed to the city of Portland—observe to the city of Portland—by Coffin and wife on the 19th January, 1865, for the purpose of a public levee.

2. Three years thereafter the said Coffin, alleging that the city had failed and neglected to improve the property, conveyed it to the Oregon Central Railroad Company, on condition that said company should erect a depot thereon within six months from the date of said conveyance.

3. The Oregon Central Railroad Company failed to comply with this condition, whereupon the said Coffin made a conveyance of the property to C. M. Carter, this tract being included in a general conveyance of landed property made by said Coffin to said Carter.

4. The city of Portland, taking measures to protect its claim and title to the property, first procured a deed in fee simple from the Oregon Central Railroad Company, to which it will be observed a warranty clause is attached; and second, it obtained from the said Coffin and wife and the said Carter and wife a deed in fee simple, paying $2500 therefor.

The conclusion from the statement of facts cannot be other than this, namely, that the city has a title which cannot be successfully disputed. If the original grant is good, the title is in the city, because Coffin conveyed the tract to the city, as the instrument first printed shows. If, however, it reverted to Coffin through neglect of the city to improve it, it is still held by the city under the conveyance made by Coffin and Carter, in consideration of which $2500 was paid. In either case the claim that it is the property of the general public or of the state, and may be given away by the legislature, is exploded.

One more remark. Mr. J. Gaston is at the capital urging the passage of the bill to grant this tract to the Oregonian Railway Company. But Mr. Gaston is on record as having conveyed, as president of the Oregon Central, the fee simple of this tract to the city of Portland, and engaging said company to warrant and defend the said tract to the city and its assigns forever. Mr. Gaston has troubled himself about the consistency of THE OREGONIAN on this subject. And yet it would seem from this record that his own consistency should rather be to him a matter of concern.

We see that a bill for the relief of the estate of the late A. L. Stinson has been introduced in the senate. It is a well known fact that Mr. Stinson made a contract in April, 1878, with M. V. Brown, state printer, to furnish the labor and materials necessary for execution of the public printing. A copy of that contract was filed with the secretary of state. Mr. Stinson was to receive his pay in state warrants as the work was done. In pursuance of the contract he did buy the materials, employ labor and complete and deliver the work as required. But by reason of the fact that Brown had overdrawn his account for former work, a resolution was passed last session prohibiting payment to Brown for the work performed by Stinson. We are informed that Stinson expended about $1600 cash for labor and materials upon said work, and that the amount properly due his estate on account of the work is about $3500. It appears also that Stinson was indebted to the common school and university funds to the amount of $237, on which interest has been accruing for several years, making a present total of about $3500, upon $1700 of which there is no security whatever, while the security for the balance is of doubtful value. This state of facts resulted from the destruction of the Beaver hosiery works by fire. The bill now before the legislature for relief of the Stinson estate provides for payment of the amount due for the printing, less the amounts due the school and university funds, with accrued interest, and for restoration to the said school and university funds the amounts due them. As Mr. Stinson did the printing in good faith it would seem that it ought to be paid for. The balance, after payment of the amounts due to the educational funds which without the passage of this bill will be lost to said funds, will not be large, and we hope the petition of Mrs. Stinson for the adjustment will be fairly considered.

We trust that members of the legislature will take notice of the remonstrance of citizens of Portland against the proposed changes of the charter. The names appended to this remonstrance, which we print to-day, were collected in a very short time, and their number could easily be doubled or quadrupled. All the names taken are those of known citizens and taxpayers—men who have a right to protest against the consummation of this outrage. We have no idea that the names of twenty respectable citizens and taxpayers of the city could be obtained to a petition asking the legislature to pass the bill. For justification of the course of THE OREGONIAN in relation to this bill we refer to the [illegible] names published in another place.

Mr. Williams has in another communication, devoted himself to the levee question. Again he misapprehends the position of THE OREGONIAN. This paper does not think, nor try to make it appear, that his company is actuated by a desire to destroy the property of the city of Portland. The company comes not to destroy, but to possess. Again, the assumption that anybody is opposing their "getting into the city by any way" needs correction. We have never yet heard of such person. But the fundamental error is in the position that the levee is property owned by the entire community of the state, and not by Portland alone." The record which we print to-day tells a different story.

Strange changes are witnessed in politics. Many eastern democratic journals now keep the fourteenth amendment, in big letters, standing at the head of their columns. And yet the party fought this amendment bitterly, and tried by all possible means to prevent its adoption, failing in which they resolved that it was unconstitutional and void; and several democratic legislatures, among them the legislature of Oregon, tried to rescind the ratification of it. A striking exhibition of political fraudulency is seen in those democratic journals which now keep this amendment standing in big letters at the head of their columns, in token of their admiration of it.

"It has been charged that one of the members from Multnomah has been drunk at the capital and has neglected the business of the session. The people only wish that the business of the session were more generally neglected. If Multnomah can find where that member got his whisky, it ought to send every member of the delegation a barrel of it."

There was a large republican meeting at Lebanon, Linn county, on Saturday evening. In no part of the state are the republicans working more earnestly than in Linn.

We have a couple of communications from the Cascade Locks; but as they are anonymous they cannot be inserted.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a meeting of the P. H. B. society the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom, to remove from our midst our late brother Terence McLaughlin, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of our lamented brother the society has lost a true and valuable member, one whose loss we sincerely regret, and whose place can not soon be filled; who was always known as a good citizen, a faithful and kind husband and affectionate father.

Resolved, That we join in heartfelt sympathy with the widow and orphans of our deceased brother in this the hour of their bitter affliction.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased, and also be published in the DAILY OREGONIAN, Standard and Bulletin.

PORTLAND'S GREAT FAIR.

FOURTH DAY.

The Second Week Opens with an Over Average Attendance—Part of the Display in the Galleries.

The first day of the second week of the fair shows that there is no abatement in interest, and that one look at the splendid exhibition instead of satisfying the desire, only serves to induce continued visits. The crowd last night numbered about fifteen hundred—nearly double the average of last year, and Monday is the dullest evening of the week. The attendance thus far is beyond the most sanguine expectations of the directory, and the fair is at least equal to any preconceived ideas of visitors.

GENERAL EXHIBIT IN THE GALLERY.

Following is a list of the exhibits in the gallery, not including the drawings by school children and the ladies' handiwork:

S. Lipman & Co.—Four rich bed spreads, two of Torchon lace with table and two of Smyrna and Yak lace with pillow shams to match, ranging from $150 to $250 per set; an Indian shawl worth $500, evening silks and face ties.

E. F. Heyn—Domestic sewing machines.

D. Mackay—Ornamental cornices and ceiling.

L. Landenberger—Specimens of stereotyping.

C. & W. Pickering—Ornamental scroll work, in baskets, brackets, frames and easels.

J. B. Congle—A large display of harness, ladies' and gentlemen's saddles, whips and saddlers' hardware.

Mrs. S. E. Ripperton—Line of millinery goods.

Mr. L. Pfluger—Dolmans, wraps, blue brocade silk dress on train, cloaks and masquerade suits.

S. Sherlock—A large display of work and carriage harness, saddles and harness makers' supplies.

Wm. Beck & Son—Seven show cases containing toys, guns, fishing tackle, fancy glassware, artists' colors, canes and paper ornaments.

J. VanBeurden—A large square stand, four-faced, in which is arranged a fine display of silverware, diamonds, watches and jewelry.

Champlin & Hollabaugh—A case of ladies' and children's shoes.

Geo. Williams & Co.—A case of Oregon made gloves.

Geo. A. Hess—A case of parasols.

A. B. Miller & Son—Drawings and engravings of bridges, showing all details.

Wm. Wood—Spring beds.

John B. Garrison—Wilson improved sewing machines, samples of fine work done on them, and ladies' fancy goods.

W. G. Noon—One square and one circular dent.

Howe & Co.—A machine for ruling paper, in operation.

Clackamas Paper Co.—A display of news, tissue, book and wrapping papers, twine, paper bags and envelopes.

A. G. Walling—A copper plate press, lithographing stones, colored labels, and samples of printing and engraving.

J. K. Gill & Co.—Books of many varieties, from small blank to finest library, note paper, cards, gold pens and pencils, maps, globes and stationers' supplies.

M. W. Hendricks—Elastic truss pad.

Mrs. A. K. West—Hats or ... bonnets and plumes.

Nicolai Bros.—Three immense planks of cedar, surmounted with the firm name in carved letters.

Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Co.—Rich bedroom set, two inlaid tables, a number of easy chairs, a library set, secretary and a beautiful desk, head carved by Louis D. Kuester.

Rummelin & ...—Fur robes, wraps, muffs, boas, seal cloaks and rugs.

Schindler & Chadbourne—Handsome bed room set, several easy chairs, marble top table, secretary, book case and ottomans.

H. B. Litt—Three ladies' suits of handsome design.

THE CITY LEVEE.

History of the Grant to the City—The City's Title Sustained by Signal Proofs.

Documents of Interest to Mr. Gaston and Others.

Many years ago Stephen Coffin donated to the city of Portland the tract of land now known as the public levee. He now says, as we understand that he did not donate it to the city but to the general public, that is, to the use of the whole people of the state. Documents on record show that this statement or claim is unfounded. We proceed to give this record. In the year 1865 Stephen Coffin executed the following deed to the Oregon Central Railroad Company. It will be seen that in this conveyance he explains that he had not granted the tract to the general public as he now claims, but to the city of Portland for the purpose of a public levee, and expected the city to improve it as such, and not the people of the state:

Know all men by these presents—That, whereas, heretofore, to wit: On the 19th day of January, A. D., 1865, we, Stephen Coffin and —— Coffin, of the city of Portland, Oregon, did convey to said city the premises hereinafter described for the purpose of a public levee, with the understanding, intention, purpose and desire to have the said city take possession of and improve the same, believing said improvements of said property would enhance the value of our other property in said city; and, whereas, the expectation and understanding that said city would take possession of said property and make valuable improvements thereon for such levee, and thus enhance the value of our other real estate in said city constituted the only consideration of these grantors, and, whereas, said city has failed and neglected to take possession of said property, and failed and neglected to improve the same for the purposes intended in our deed to said city, and thereby failed and neglected to render any consideration to these grantors. Therefore we do now convey the following described property to the Oregon Central Railroad Company, of Portland, Oregon, to-wit: Two blocks or pieces of land lying on the Willamette river north of the middle of Clay street, south of the middle line of Jefferson street, and bounded on the west by blocks 113 and 112, and east by the Willamette river as laid down on the map of Stephen Coffin's addition to the city of Portland. This grant is made to said railroad company for the express purpose of using the same for a merchandise depot for said railroad in said city to the said company, to take possession of and commence improvements thereon within six months from date; and for the purpose of said depot we have released and conveyed to said company all our right, title and interest in and to the same and all the wharf rights and water privileges therewith connected or therein appurtaining. In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals this 16th day of May, 1868. (Signed) S. COFFIN. [SEAL.]

Executed in presence of
J. GASTON, { U. S. Revenue Stamp, 50 Cents. Canceled }
O. P. MASON,

Acknowledged before O. P. Mason, Notary Public for Oregon.

Recorded on page 107, book I.

The city of Portland, aware of this effort to convey its property to the Oregon Central Railroad Company, at once took measures to check the proceeding. Rather than go to litigation, it purchased from that company, J. Gaston, president, all the right, title and interest claimed by said company, and took from said company a fee simple title in warranty as follows:

Deed by the Company.

Know all men by these presents that we, the Oregon Central Railroad Company, in consideration of one dollar paid us by the City of Portland, do hereby bargain, sell, transfer and convey to said City of Portland and assigns forever, the following described parcel of real estate, to wit:

Two blocks or pieces of land lying on the Willamette river, north of the middle of Clay street, south of the middle line of Jefferson street and bounded on the west by blocks Nos. 113 and 112 and east by the Willamette river, as laid down on the map of Stephen Coffin's Addition to the City of Portland; to have and to hold the same with all the privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging to the said City of Portland and assigns forever. And we do covenant with the said City of Portland and its legal representatives forever, that we will and our associates successors and assigns shall

WARRANT AND DEFEND

The same to the said City of Portland, heirs and assigns forever against the lawful claims and demands of all persons claiming by or through us.

In witness whereof the Board of Directors of said Oregon Central Railroad Company, have caused these presents to be signed by their President and Secretary and sealed with their corporate seal this first day of March, 1869, at Portland, Oregon.

Recorded March 1, 1869, on page 219 of book "G" of Deeds of Multnomah County.

Stephen Coffin some time after this made a deed to C. M. Carter of a large amount of property, in which this public levee was included. Mr. Gaston not having used it as a depot as required by the deed to the Oregon Central Railroad, and Coffin claiming that the property had reverted to him. The city of Portland then took a deed in fee simple from Carter and wife and Coffin and wife, paying $2500 therefor. The following are the ordinances under which the transaction was authorized and concluded:

No. 1021.

An ordinance to provide for quieting the title to the public levee.

The city of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. That his honor the mayor and the committee on streets and public property be and are hereby authorized and directed to ... from the proper persons good and sufficient deeds conveying the title in fee simple to the tract of land lying on the bank of the Willamette river, between an extension of the lines of Jefferson and Clay streets, and known on the map of the city of Portland as the public levee; provided the cost thereof shall not exceed twenty-five hundred dollars.

Passed the common council July 12, 1871.

Approved July 14, 1871.

PHILIP WASSERMAN, Mayor.

No. 1022.

An ordinance making an appropriation out of the general fund, for quieting the title to the public levee.

The city of Portland does ordain as follows:

Sec. 1. That out of the general fund there be and is hereby appropriated the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars to defray the expense of quieting the title to the public levee.

Passed the common council July 12, 1871.

Approved July 14, 1871.
(Signed) PHILIP WASSERMAN, Mayor.

STATE OF OREGON, COUNTY OF MULTNOMAH, city of Portland—ss. I, E. L. Durham, auditor and clerk of the city of Portland, do hereby certify that the foregoing copies of ordinances Nos 1021 and 1022 have been by me compared with the original, and that they are correct transcripts therefrom, and of the whole of such original ordinances as the same appear of record in my office and in my custody, and I further certify that I have compared the within copy of deed with the original record thereof, as the same appear of record on pages 495 and 496 of Book O of record of deeds for Multnomah county, and that the said copy is a correct transcript therefrom and of the whole thereof.

Witness my hand and the seal of the city of Portland, this 11th —— of Oct., 1880.

E. L. DURHAM, Auditor and Clerk of the City of Portland.

And the following is a copy of the deed of Carter and wife and Coffin and wife to the city of Portland, in consideration of the sum of $2500 in cash paid:

This indenture, made and entered into by and between Stephen Coffin and Lucinda Coffin, his wife, of the county of Marion, State of Oregon, and ... M. Carter and Mary H. Carter, his wife, of the City of Portland, County of Multnomah, and State of Oregon, parties of the first part, and the City of Portland, party of the second part witnesseth: that whereas the said Stephen Coffin and Lucinda Coffin by deed dated January ... 1865, and recorded January 23d, 1865, in Book "F" page 249 of the records of deeds of said Multnomah County, did convey to "The City of Portland" a portion of the property hereinafter described, reserving to themselves certain rights, reservations and easements therein expressed, and now the parties of the first part desiring that "The City of Portland" should have and hold the land hereinafter described free from all reservations made or retained in the before mentioned deed, and that the said city should forever hold the property hereby granted in fee simple. Now, therefore, the parties of the first part in consideration of the premises and of the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars gold coin of the United States, to them in hand paid by the said party of the second part the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, have granted by these presents do hereby grant, bargain, sell and convey unto the party of the second part, the following described real estate situate in said City of Portland, county of Multnomah, and State of Oregon, to wit: commencing at a point on the south line of Clay street 200 feet easterly from the east line of Front street; said point leaving the N. E. corner of Block No. 111 as shown on the official map of the City of Portland. Thence N. 20° 35' E parallel with the east line of Front street 245 feet to the north line of Columbia street to a point, said point being the S. E. corner of fractional Block No. 111; thence N. 69° about 285 feet to the north line of Jefferson street; thence south 69° 27' E to the Willamette river, thence southerly, following the meanderings of the Willamette river to where the same would intersect an easterly prolongation of the south line of Clay street; thence north 69° 27' west, to the place of beginning. To have and to hold the above granted premises in fee simple unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns forever. In witness whereof, the parties of the first part have hereunto set their hands and seals this 26th day of July, A. D. 1871.

REMONSTRANCE.

The Citizens of Portland Protest against the Proposed Charter Amendments.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Oregon:—The undersigned memorialists, taxpayers and citizens of the city of Portland respectfully represent: That the leading provisions of house bill No. 1, a bill for an act to amend the charter of said city, have not been approved by either the mayor or council of said city, and there is no demand on the part of the taxpayers or other inhabitants for the passage of such an act as that now pending.

The law as at present administered has been, and now is, productive of peace and good order in the city, and its provisions and administration give general satisfaction.

The taxpayers are opposed to the bill.

The sentiment of citizens here condemns it, and the best interests of the city require that it do not pass.

We earnestly protest against the attempt to legislate out of office the incumbents who have been duly elected and have worthily filled their respective offices, and under whose administration, peace and good order have been maintained and the municipality has prospered.

The proposed repeal of certain other provisions of the old charter will open the door to fraud.

We earnestly protest against the radical changes proposed.

We respectfully represent that the reasons assigned in sec. 34, for the passage of the bill, are wholly untrue.

We therefore earnestly protest against the passage of the bill referred to.

This petition was circulated for a short time yesterday and received the following signatures. In no single instance was there a refusal to sign.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

No people in the world suffer as much with Dyspepsia as Americans. Although years of experience in medicine had failed to accomplish a certain and sure remedy for this disease and its effects, such as Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Waterbrash, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Liver Complaint, coming up of the food, low spirits, general debility, etc., yet since the introduction of Green's August Flower we believe there is no case of Dyspepsia that cannot be immediately relieved. 30,000 dozen sold last year without one case of failure reported. Go to your Druggist and get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try it. Two doses will relieve you. Regular size 75 cents.

THE LEVEE QUESTION.

11 October, 1880.

THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

You endeavor to make it appear we have a more desire than to destroy the property of the city of Portland, whereas the reverse is the case. Such a way to save any damage to property that we afterwards selected the levee, explained as follows:

In April last our board of directors passed a resolution to extend its line to Portland, and authorized me to look for suitable depot grounds. The northern portion—the South claim—was preferred, one direction remarking, however, that it would destroy much property to do as the Oregon Central railroad had done—lay running our steam engines and line from the extreme southerly limits to the extreme northerly limits of the city, over a distance of two and a half miles of streets. Our attorney advised us that this did not matter, as the corporate laws of Oregon entitled any railway corporation to run through the streets of a city to get to its depot grounds, and that we could take our steam engines, freight and passenger cars from the city limits on the macadam White House road to Weidler's, should it become necessary under the act passed in October, 1862, and that whether or not the council gave us such permission. But we had then as now no wish to injure the property owners of Portland, simply to gratify our desires to locate our depot grounds under the city, and hence resolved not to occupy the property we had contracted for at that point. We therefore found that the only place with water frontage within the city limits to which it is possible to run with our trains without damaging a single individual's property was the public levee, then as now unused by any person, covered with rubbish and refuse, and used as a public dump for twenty years. Accordingly we resolved to purchase it, and so instructed our attorney, who, after consulting with the city attorney and examining the county records, reported to us that the city's title to said public levee was bad, and if he had the power to sell the property, and that the only way to get a clear title to it was from the state of Oregon. We then asked the city council for the use of this levee property, and you know what followed. Although we presented to the council a petition from over 2000 taxpayers of Portland asking them to give us the use of this levee, they refused, and there the matter hangs to-day. We have condemned the property by a suit in court to appropriate the same under the corporate laws in the case of public property. But as no decision has yet been obtained in that suit, and it will be a year or more before it can now come up before the supreme court under appeal, the decision will then be of little value to us. Why? Because our railway from Portland to Dayton, on the east side of the Willamette valley will be in running operation by the middle of next August, and we require to erect buildings five months previous to move next year's crop into the city the first of March next.

The public will thus see that there are only two courses open to us. Seeing we cannot erect buildings on a piece of ground which has a bad title, or purchase the same from the city of Portland, which we cannot sell, we must select

(First)—Run our steam engines and cars down to the place we formerly selected as depot ground—in the extreme northerly portion of the city, a distance of 2¼ miles, after obtaining under the general law now in force authorizing us so to do; or

(Second)—Apply to the late new council, as the legislature of the state of Oregon for a right of way to and occupation of the public levee, (being property owned by the entire community in the state, and not the exclusive property of Portland,) which is wholly within the jurisdiction of the state of Oregon to grant, or

Finally, to give up the idea of our entering the city of Portland with our railway.

We propose to show that those 2000 persons who signed a petition to immediately compel us to use the levee are still in our favor. If we are forced by opposition and adverse interests to resort to the general laws of Oregon and run our steam engines and cars to the extreme northerly end of the city I trust those few citizens who are opposing us getting into the city by any way will not blame us for taking a course we will then be forced to by their actions.

Washington Territory.

Up to the 6th inst. 735 cases of hops have been shipped from Puyallup.

Caterpillars are making their appearance in large numbers in the woods about Seattle.

Miss M[illegible] has been elected by the board of superintendents of Pierce county [illegible] at Tacoma.

Fifty-two thousand pounds of hops were sold during the last week, for 15 cents per lb. cash, at Puyallup.

The Steilacoom Express has suspended publication, and its publisher, S. L. Maxwell, returned to his [illegible] county [illegible].

The loss by the burning of the Puyallup hop-stave factory on the 1st inst. was between $9000 and $7000, fully covered by insurance.

The fire in the midst of an exceptionally windy day spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save anything. Two valuable horses that were chained in the building were roasted alive, their piteous wails for a time rising [illegible] above the crackle of the flames.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Markets the past week show but few changes, although business departments there is a notable weakness in prices.

WHEAT—More active for speculation on further urgent demand from shippers to cover old contracts made on the other side. As was the case several days past, this sheet demand dropped out in new bids, and of greater magnitude than had been expected. Sellers took advantage of this and put prices up.

PROVISIONS—Quiet but steady.

BUTTER—Dull prices entirely nominal.

REFINED SUGAR—Is firmly quoted, prices not steady.

TEAS—Ordinary demand; auction sale yesterday was fairly attended but prices rather lower.

FOREIGN fruits less active; raisins steady in value but may not realize so freely. Prunes dull and nominal. New layer figs have had good sale to arrive at 10½@11. Currants dull and easier. Dried apples dull and nominal.

HIDES very quiet.

BORAX steady with fair demand.

QUICKSILVER steady 42½@43c.

HIDES very slow demand, prices weak.

LEATHER dull, price easier.

TOBACCO quiet demand but holders are rather indifferent, and prices higher.

RESIN is quiet but very firm, cases 2@2½.

CRUDE oils good demand and firm. A lot of 150 bbls sperm sold on city received via Panama sold at 85c for export and $1 11½ named for a lot of 25 barrels.

HARDWARE, for a descriptions good demand at full prices.

NAILS better enquired.

PIG IRON low or on all grades, of American and marked dull. No. 1 $1 24@1 25.

RAILROAD iron quiet but firm at $1 14.

TIN PLATE dull and lower.

WOOL unchanged; prices steady; sales include 271,000 lbs spring [illegible]@34@38

The most wonderful and marvelous success in cases where patients are sick or pining away from a condition of miserableness, that no one knows what ails them, (profitable patients for doctors,) is obtained by the use of Hop Bitters. They begin to cure from the first dose, and keep it up until perfect health and strength is restored. Whoever is afflicted in this way is a fool not to suffer, when they can get Hop Bitters. See "Truths" and "Proverbs" in another column.

45 Years Before the Public.
THE GENUINE
DR. C. McLANE'S
CELEBRATED
FOR THE CURE OF
Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated. Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLane's Liver Pills bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

TROPIC FRUIT LAXATIVE

TAKE PILLS

And the Usual Purgatives,

IS PLEASANT TO TAKE.

An I will prove it. Check the most potent and harmless SYSTEM RENOVATOR and CLEANSER that has yet been brought to public notice. For CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS, HEADACHE, PILES, and all disorders arising from an obstructed state of the system, it is incomparable. The best curative extant.

TROPIC-FRUIT LAXATIVE is put up in bronzed tin boxes only. Avoid imitations. Ask your druggist for Descriptive Pamphlet, or address the proprietor,

J. E. HETHERINGTON,
New York or San Francisco.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN
The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast,
IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private diseases.

He has become an expert in the treatment of diseases, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,
Such as SPERMATORRHŒA, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, IMPOTENCY, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases arising, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the medical profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization decay completely and all hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for it.

Office—No. 53 First street, between Oak and Pine.
Office Hours—From 10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

TO
Sportsmen and Tourists.

THE UPPER CASCADES AND VICINITY, AT the present season, offers the most inducements of perhaps any locality within a radius of 250 miles of Portland. Lake, brook and mountain trout await the delicies of the "gentle art," whilst the followers of Nimrod can "fool with the festive deer and frolicsome cougar to their heart's content, which desires are not limited.

The glorious mountain scenery, elegant river views, and enormous government works, alone, will amply repay a visit.
